Project Overview:

To advise and supply our client's site with quality fire extinguishers and signage over a flexible phased project period, to ensure the installation was completed within a specified refurbishment programme.

We designed and produced hand-built plinths (finished in customer's colour choice) to accommodate fire extinguishers approved as "standard kit" throughout the office floors for general "A" class and electrical fire risk.

The building is occupied by a major international IT systems business with several hundred staff. The specification and quality standards required throughout were typically exacting.

Summary:

Phased project successfully completed within time and project price.

Customer's Feedback:

"I have used the services of FDSA for a number of clients over the last 18 years and hold this supplier in high regard in terms of service, product specification, quality, cost-effectiveness and overall customer facability."
