

Case Study: Savoy Hotel

Infrared Emergency Lighting

Project Overview:

The Savoy is synonymous with quality and style, with a worldwide reputation.

We have enjoyed a long relationship with the Savoy, and were approached by our client to recommend a premium emergency light fitting that would be both aesthetically acceptable and could be installed with the minimum of disruption to the hotel.

We proposed the installation of Emergi-lite Infrared emergency light fittings to satisfy these requirements and offered our client a flexible programme to accommodate the day-to-day operation of the hotel. This was especially vital as all of the new fittings, a total of 160, were for installation throughout the front-of-house areas.

It was necessary not only to work within the client's busy hotel operation but to ensure our installation team were ever mindful of the internal aesthetics and working within customer-occupied spaces. This presented a challenge in itself and demanded careful and, at times, diplomatic project management to ensure that all aspects of the job were controlled to the exacting standard that had been set.

Summary:

The phased project was successfully completed over a period of approximately 6 months and within the agreed fixed price.
